BREVITIES.

The new proprietor is now in charge of the Arcade.
The trial of Mrs. Boynton comes up to-day in the District Court.
Blessed is the man who has laid in his stock of wood for the winter.
"High-ball" is the game that seems to capture the boys at the present time.
There are 51 voters registered at Verdi, and are said to be about a stand-off politically.
Geo. Strother and his party of stumpers will be in Reno Friday, and will hold a big rally at the Theater in the evening.

Parties interested in the mines in Peavine district are arranging to try the leaching process upon the rebellious ore in that most rebellious district.

Mrs. Alt starts the dancing season in earnest to-night by opening her school at Kinball's Hall. This is a splendid opportunity to learn to dance, and for old dancers to learn all the latest hops.

There is only one Young voter on the registry list in Reno, and that is the registry agent himself, who was denied membership in the Young Men's Republican Club because of his extreme old age.

The fair held at Greenfield, Mason Valley, last week was a grand success in every respect. The display in horses, mules, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc., was excellent, and everything passed off finely.

Powing, with his campaigning associates, will wind up all their engagements at Tuscarora, Friday night, and will then leave for the western part of the State, and will probably reach Reno Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Bryant wish to return their sincere and heartfelt thanks to all their neighbors and friends for the great kindness and consideration extended to them during their late affliction and bereavement.

A general growl went up yesterday morning because of the stormy appearance of the weather, but before night it was serene—the clouds had cleared away and the sun came out as warm and pleasant as spring time.

A Grievance That Might Be Corrected.

In the management of the Reno Guards the most equitable and judicious distribution of the rifles should be made. From statements made it appears that out of the whole outfit of the guards armory only eighteen rifles are improved guns with wind-gauges, the balance being old style weapons, not yet altered and remounted. Surely the members of the rifle team should have the choice of the improved arms instead of allowing them to be selected haphazard by the entire company. While a number of the rifle team are compelled to use the antiquated rifle in practice shooting, a number of the youngest members possess the improved arm which they never use except on parade or drill. This is manifestly not right and should be remedied. Surely if there are any members of the Reno Guards deserving of having the use of the best rifles, they are the constituents of the guards' rifle team who bear the burden of the company's reputation on their shoulders, whenever a match occurs.

The California Rifle Match.

Last Sunday evening two crowded cars loaded of riflemen and their friends with fire in their eyes, arrived on the V. & T. train and took their departure to attend the meeting of the California Rifle Association in San Francisco. They represented the flower of Nevada's marksmen and were made up of contingents from the Comstock and Carson. The team proper consists of sixteen men, said to be the best shots in the State. The tickets for the round trip cost only $18 and were good for ten days. If the team doesn't bring back a trophy, outside of the leather medal, they might as well return home via Placerville, —some other route sure besides that via Reno.

Speaking of the Pantomime Company which appears at the Nevada Theater, Reno, to-night, the Chicago Times of August 29th has the following:

Andrews & Stockwell's Ideal Pantomime and Star Specialty Company achieved an unequivocal and thoroughly well deserved success at the Olympic Theatre last evening. They gave a deeply and continuously interesting performance vastly different from ordinary pantomime companies. From the very first act to the close of the programme the attention of the audience was entirely given to the stage performance.

PERSONAL.

State Printer Maddrill and family are visiting friends at Grass Valley, Cal.

Mrs. Judge King left Sunday morning on a visit to the Atlantic States.

Senator Jones, Gov. Kinkead and C. E. Laughton arrived from Virginia City last night.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs. Herbert Thrall is dangerously ill with typhoid fever.

Professor James, of Eureka, has arrived here to attend the Teachers' Institute.

Judge Borman, Democratic candidate for County Treasurer, is in town interviewing the boys.

Congressman Cassidy and Speaker Merrill will hold forth at the Nevada Theater Thursday night.

W. S. Hanford is up from California to visit his family. His wife has been very ill for a week or more, but is now convalescing.

Pete Comstock, John Alexander, Frank Emmett and others are out in the Pyramid country talking to the people on the political situation.

Grant Rice, an estimable young Reno gentleman, left Monday evening for San Francisco to enter Heald's Business College. He expects to be gone all winter.

Geisse and Amos Alt returned from Mason Valley Monday night. They went out to attend the county fair. They say the fair was much better than they expected to find it.

P. K. J. Stanley, whose residence was on the south side of the river, died Monday night after a brief illness, aged 61 years. The funeral took place yesterday and was largely attended.

Dan Murphy, an extensive stock-raiser, and one of the very best men in Eastern Nevada, died in Elko last Sunday. His remains passed through Reno Monday night en route to California for burial.

Frank Mayo, one of the foremost actors on the American stage, has engaged the Nevada Theater for November 3d, when he will appear in the wonderfully popular drama entitled "Davy Crockett."

E. W. Crutcher is in from Humboldt. He will return in a day or two with his family to Winnemucca, where they propose to reside in the future. Mr. Crutcher owns a stock ranch containing 3,000 acres about 30 miles northeast of Winnemucca, where he is feeding several thousand head of cattle.

Newt Jacobs, a prominent Surprise Valley farmer, was in town yesterday. He reports the roads leading in and out of the valley again in passable condition. Eight or ten large teams loaded with Surprise Valley flour will arrive in Reno early next week and will load back with freight that has been accumulating at the depot in this place.

The Pingue Spot Started Again.

A new building is being erected on the site of the lately burnt district on Virginia street, and rumor has it that it is to be let to either See Wah, the former fire fiend, or some other Chinaman, so that a new plague spot may be started in that unfortunate section, which every worthy citizen of Reno has hoped had been purified by fire. But now another Chinaman is ready to rise out of the late Chinese Phoenix ashes. It looks execrable that, after their late experience, property owners will build anew to entrust their premises to the fire-careless Chinaman. It is easily explained though, while insurance rates are high, the rent the heathen pays is a golden morsel continually in the eye of the landlord. In a few months he will receive back the total cost of his shanty. What matters it whether other and poorer folks build up the block alongside of him? Some dark night the lurid flames of fire will light up the street, originating in the Chinese wash-house. The landlord will rake in his insurance with pleasant "sang froid;" but how about the neighbors to whom it is financial ruin? To Watson, whom the last Chinese fire drove to his grave! To Grove, who witnessed his fine gallery go up a holocaust, to American cupidity and Chinese laxity! To Lewis, deprived of all his property and striving to begin business five years behind again! Laycock was nearly burnt out; the Ohio House was in nearly as much danger, and the Women's Temperance Union is now saddled with a heavy debt from the conflagration; others who have hidden their grief and sobs in silence are, God knows where. Yet, the self same programme is to be repeated—the middle of the block is to be built up for the special accommodation of the opium-smoking, fire-neglecting Chinamen, to settle as a plague spot again. Where are the County Commissioners? The city authorities who ought to have the interests of Reno and its taxpayers deeply at heart. Something surely should be done to check the evil now that it is innocently budding forth again.

The New Range.

The new rifle range of the Reno Guards has been completed in fine style and is a credit to the company. It is situated near Bragg's lumber yard in the field belonging to Mr. Forbes. Two targets of 200 and 500 hundred yards range respectively have been erected with convenient and safe bulkheads for the markers, and a fine shooting box erected, arranged in the most comfortable manner for the convenience of marksmen and visitors. Last Sunday the new range was baptized in a sea of fire and everybody pronounced the location and arrangements first-class and a great improvement over the old quarters. It is to be hoped that the boys will be assiduous in practice hereafter so as to walk away with marksmen from any part of the State.

It is the universal opinion that Judge O. R. Leonard will be elected by 2,500 majority, and he certainly ought to be.

Mercy to Railroad Baggage Men.

The railroad people, that is, those of them who handle passenger luggage, pretend to have discovered in the person of Miss Susan B. Anthony the first and only human being who has the ordinary feelings of humanity towards them. The discovery was made in the following way: Miss Anthony wanted to have two medium-sized trunks checked on one ticket. The agent demanded pay for extra weight. Miss Anthony remonstrated, saying that the two trunks did not weigh as much as an ordinary "Saratoga," and that she had put her effects in two trunks instead of one out of consideration for the baggage man. This was enough, and more than enough. The trunks were checked, all the employees in the department having been first summoned to behold and cheer their phenomenal owner.—Eastern Hour.

It has become the custom to run down unfortunate railroad employees and style them by the sobriquet of "baggage smasher," because a trunk as big as a house is often smashed as it deserves to be. Last night the west-bound train was some thirty-five minutes late and the baggage men found themselves with three immense trunks of mansard roof Saratogas containing the baggage of nearly three car loads of passengers, and only a few minutes to spare. In fact scarcely had the last trunk been disposed of before the train was shifting to take on the sleeper. All of the trunks, with but few exceptions, were monsters in size and weight and required the united strength of two stout men to roll them into the baggage car. Yet people delight to compress every pounds weight into a monster Saratoga, and then roll their eyes in ecstatic horror, when the baggage man wrestling with it finds his strength and his temper overcome, and by a superhuman effort dashes the blasted thing against a projection and disembowels it. They should learn a lesson from their much maligned sister, Susan B. Anthony.

J. H. BORMAN,
Registry Agent Verdi Precinct.

The present comet in the Eastern sky which can be distinctly seen by everyone at early morning, is certainly the most remarkable one of the modern comets. Prof. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., states that the comet grazed the sun so closely as to cause great disturbance, so much so that it has divided into no less than eight separate parts, all of which can be distinctly seen by a good telescope. There is only one other instance on record where a comet has divided, that one being Biella's comet of 1845, which separated into two parts. Applications have been made on Mr. H. H. Warner by parties who have noted these cometary offshoots, claiming the $200 prize for each of them. Whether the great comet will continue to produce a brood of smaller comets remains to be seen.
